Supporting Materials:

1) A personal statement (approximately 500 words)

Address how Portland Stage's Cost of Living Scholarship will impact you. Please feel free to discuss any obstacles or factors that would prevent you from accepting an offer if not awarded the scholarship.

2) Financial Documentation:

If you attended college within the last year, please provide your most recent FAFSA Student Aid Report.

For those that did not attend college in the last year, please provide your most recent IRS 1040 Individual Income Tax Return.

If you feel that situation makes neither a FAFSA Student Aid report nor a recent IRS 1040 Individual Income Tax Return appropriate, please reach out Scholarship@portlandstage.org to explain your situation before applying, and we can work collaboratively on how best you can document your financial situation.

We plan on distributing the $5,000 scholarship with $1,000 being added to the first stipend (to help offset moving costs) and $4,000 added evenly to the remainder of your biweekly stipends. However, we are open to working with the scholarship recipient to customize the distribution of the funds to better match their needs.

Please note: The Cost of Living Scholarship and the biweekly stipend are considered taxable income by both the Internal Revenue Service and the Maine Revenue Service. These taxes will be withheld automatically from your paychecks.
